My name is Yarelis Cruz Camacho and I live in San Lorenzo, Puerto Rico. I can speak fluently in Spanish and a little less fluent in English. I don't have a job, but if I did, I'd probably work in a store or something related. I consider myself a very social person when I get enough confidence. I am very selective with my friends, but I'm always the same with everyone.

When it comes to communication habits I am very selective too, I prefer Whatsapp or a more personal communication, like being in front of the person and talk with it. I'm not a lover of Facebook, I think is so generic and a little boring for me; maybe is because I prefer read a book over people's postings. With that I spend like 15 minutes in social media, maybe 20 minutes; all depends of what I see. Finally, I like websites related to science, K-pop, music, and movies.
